

Is there a spell checker?

Daisy's HTML editor doesn't include a spell checker (itself). This is mostly due to the lack of available open-source Java-based spell check solutions. Also, server-based spell checking solutions are not as comfortable as client-side solutions.

The good news is that Firefox<sup>1</sup> 2.0 includes a spell checker. To activate it, simply right click somewhere in the editor and select "Spell check this field" (if it is not activated by default). Dictionaries for many languages are available.
